

QUANTUMSECURE

SAVE THE DATE: February 22, 2012 - The Palmer Hotel, Chicago

Are you a next-generation security executive?

Are you using leading-edge technology to remove RISKS from your Physical Security Operations?

Join Quantum Secure and Andrews International for a 1/2 day in-person seminar targeting C-level security executives on February 22, 2012 at the Palmer House in Chicago.

This event will feature a keynote from Dr. Daniel Diermeier, a distinguished professor at the Kellogg Graduate School of Management; IBM Professor of Regulation and Competitive Practice and the Director of the Ford Motor Company Center of Global Citizenship.

Ray O'Hara, SVP, Andrews International and Chairman of the Board for ASIS International, will lead our discussion as three major corporations share their innovative approach to increasing efficiency and managing security risk by adopting Physical Identity and Access Management.
